NAV per unit: USD14.71 (P Acc USD) / USD6.99 (P MDis USD)

Fund size : USD4,014.3 million

May 2020

- Value Partners Greater China High Yield Income Fund (the "Fund") primarily invests in a portfolio of fixed and floating rate bonds and other debt securities, including convertible bonds, in the Greater China region.
- The Fund may invest in high yielding securities which may be unrated or below investment grade and debt securities issued by special purpose vehicles. The Fund is therefore exposed to higher credit/insolvency risk and default risk.
- The Fund primarily invests in the Greater China region and therefore is subject to emerging market and concentration risks. Generally, investments in emerging markets are more volatile than investments in developed markets due to additional risks relating to political, social, economic and regulatory uncertainty. Adverse development in such region may affect the value of the underlying securities in which the Fund invests.
- In respect of the distribution shares for the Fund, the Manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. However, the distribution rate is not guaranteed. Distribution yield is not indicative of the return of the Fund. Distribution may be paid from capital of the Fund. Investors should note that where the payment of distributions are paid out of capital, this represents and amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of the amount you originally invested or capital gains attributable to that and may result in an immediate decrease of the net asset value per share of the Fund.
- The Fund may also invest in derivatives which can involve material risks, e.g. counterparty default risk, insolvency or liquidity risk, and may expose the Fund to significant losses.
- You should not make investment decision on the basis of this marketing material alone. Please read the explanatory memorandum for details and risk factors.

Investment objective

The Fund aims to provide capital appreciation by primarily investing in Greater China debt securities, including but not limited to high yield, convertible and mainland Chinese offshore bonds.

Commentary

Portfolio review:

The Asian credit markets continued to recover in May, with high yield bonds outperforming investment grade issues. During the month, Hong Kong hit the world headlines with the passage of national security law. The U.S. and some developed allies expressed deep concerns over the new law. The U.S. retaliated by a consideration to put an end to Hong Kong's special trade status. We view the cancellation of this special status to likely pose limited damages to Hong Kong, as direct export from the city only accounts for a tiny percentage of the total export. Most exports from Hong Kong are re-export, which are already subject to the existing U.S. tariff. For the month, we continued to focus on the China property sector, and continually increase our allocation to benchmark names in the space. Meanwhile, we were very active in the investment grade new issue market.

Outlook:

The market remains calm post the legislation's passage for Hong Kong. The Hong Kong dollar peg remains strong, thanks to the city's hefty reserve. The COVID-19 situation, continued battle between China and the U.S. in all fronts, and negative rhetoric from the Western countries to blame China will no doubt be dominating the market landscape and investor sentiment in the foreseeable future. Any of the hostility eventually turns into a penalty to China, such as through additional tariffs or further restriction on Chinese exports and imports, is worth paying attention. In such an uncertain environment, we believe that strong income generation and liquidity management is vital. We will manage our Fund according to these two principles until we see better visibility in the market.

Source: HSBC Institutional Trust Services (Asia) Limited and Bloomberg, data as at the last valuation date of the month as stated above, unless stated otherwise. Performance is calculated on NAV to NAV in base currency with dividend reinvested and net of fees. All indices are for reference only. Our portfolio disclosure policy can be obtained from the Investment Manager upon request to email fis@vp.com.hk.

1. The manager intends to declare and pay monthly dividends equal to all or substantially all of the net income attributable to each of the Distribution Classes. However, there is neither a guarantee that such dividends will be made nor will there be a target level of dividend payout. No dividends will be paid with respect to the Accumulation Classes. Distribution may be paid from capital of the Fund. Investors should note that where the payment of distributions are paid out of capital, this represents and amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of the amount that have been originally invested or capital gains attributable to that and may result in an immediate decrease in the value of units. Please refer to the Explanatory Memorandum for further details including the distribution policy. 2. Each hedged share class will hedge the Fund's base currency back to its currency of denomination on a best efforts basis. However, the volatility of the hedged classes measured in the Fund's base currency may be higher than that of the equivalent class denominated in the Fund's base currency. The hedged classes may be suitable for investors who wish to reduce the impact of changes in exchange rates between their local currency and the Fund's base currency. 3. Annualized yield of MDis Class is calculated as follows: (Latest dividend amount/NAV as at ex-dividend date) x 12. Investors should note that yield figures are estimated and for reference only and do not represent the performance of the Fund, and that there is no guarantee as to the actual frequency and/or amount of dividend payments. 4. Classification is based on Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS). 5. Exposure refers to net exposure (long exposure minus short exposure). Due to rounding, percentages shown may not add up to 100%. 6. Cash includes receivables and payables (except cash for collaterals and margins). 7. Volatility is a measure of the theoretical risk in terms of standard deviation, based on monthly return over the past 3 years. 8. Investors should note that the Yield to worst figure is for reference only and does not represent the actual performance of the Fund or the dividend yield received by investors. A positive yield does not imply a positive return. 9. Including bonds whose issuers do not seek credit ratings (Greater China Paper 23.8%, Equity-linked Investments 3.7%, Loan 2.8%, Others 2.2%). 10. The average credit rating is calculated by assigning a sequential integer to all credit ratings from AAA (highest) to D (lowest), taking a simple asset-weighted average of debt holdings by market value and rounding to the nearest rating. The letter rating may be based on bond ratings from different agencies and is provided to indicate the average credit rating of the portfolio's underlying bonds without taking into account derivative positions and unrated securities. As the risk of default increases disproportionately as a bond's rating decreases, the simple weighted average of credit ratings is not a statistical measurement of the portfolio's default risk. 11. The award reflects performance up to 31 Dec 2019. 12. The award reflects performance up to 31 Dec 2019. 13. The award recognizes the best performing mutual funds/private funds from various categories. 14. For Hong Kong investors only.
